

NACADA Alabama-Mississippi Drive-In 2016

Harmonizing Success:

Advising Students in Transition

Proposal/Abstract Instructions

Include the complete title of the presentation, but do not include your name in this proposal. The proposal should state the presentation's objectives/learning outcomes and clearly describe how objectives will be met (materials, methods, activities, etc.).

Proposals will be evaluated based on relevance to current issues in advising, appeal to conference participants, creativity, ingenuity, and applicability for participants after the conference. We are seeking a wide range of presentation topics relating to academic advising from a variety of advising professionals in our area.

Advising administration, faculty, full-time advisors, and administrative staff are invited to submit proposals. We encourage novices and experienced presenters alike to share your research, best practices, or techniques with your colleagues.

Abstract Instructions

This abstract will be published in the printed program should your proposal be accepted. Therefore, it should accurately describe your presentation. Conference participants use session abstracts to determine which sessions to attend; therefore, it should accurately describe the content and focus of your proposed session. Well-written abstracts have a greater probability of being selected.

Include the complete title of the presentation, but do not include your name. Abstracts are limited to 150 words including title.

- Do not use bullets, italicize, bold or underline for emphasis
- Enclose cited publications in quotation marks. PLEASE proofread your abstract.
- Abstracts of accepted presentations may be edited by the program committee.

Proposal/Abstract Tutorial

For a short tutorial and to review some examples of well-written proposals and abstracts, visit this link on the NACADA website: Abstract and Proposal Tutorial Guide

Changes to Proposal or Abstract

If you need to make a change or have questions about a submitted proposal or abstract, email mprice2@una.edu. DO NOT re-submit the same proposal if you need to make change.